

RESEARCH AND EVALUATION IN CHILD, YOUTH AND FAMILY SERVICES

2022 | Volume 4 (Special Issue).

Journal Aims

Research and Evaluation in Child, Youth and Family Services seeks to advance the principles of social justice and transformative child welfare through robust inquiry. It achieves this by fostering collaborative partnerships among researchers, agencies, and communities to highlight evidence-informed policies, programs, and services that aim to enhance the well-being of children, youth, and families within diverse social contexts.

Preface

In 2011-2012, the University of British Columbia (UBC) and the Ministry of Children and Families Development (MCFD) established a Sponsored Research Agreement to fund and offer a full academic year graduate level research course that enables Masters of Social Work (MSW) students to conduct applied research. This University-Ministry partnership is based on mutual benefit: for students, the ability to learn about research processes and to conduct research projects on timely, relevant and actionable issues, for MCFD to enhance organizational research capacity and that meets MCFD research priorities and needs. Since then, MCFD have continued to commit annual funds and resources to offer a MSW research and evaluation course through UBC.

The Research and Evaluation in Child, Youth, and Family Services e-Journal is a compilation of the research completed in my tenure as the instructor for the MSW research and evaluation course since 2018-2019. Working in small research teams, MSW students receive guidance and support from MCFD research sponsors, MCFD research coordinators, and the course instructor to propose/refine the research questions, create a research design, acquire UBC and MCFD research ethics approval, recruit participants, collect and analyze data, and produce a final presentation and report for MCFD. Year-after-year, high-quality research is produced but is not published or available beyond UBC and MCFD. As a Knowledge Exchange and Mobilization (KxM) Scholar at UBC, I aimed to provide an open access format to disseminate the research beyond UBC and MCFD to enhance the child welfare empirical literature in British Columbia, Canada, and beyond. With support from the Centre for the Study of Services to Children and Families (CSSCF), we now have a platform to mobilize this knowledge.

This creation of this e-journal is made possible through the support from the following:

The Province of British Columbia through the Ministry of Children and Family Development annual funding via the Sponsored Research Agreement. The research projects would not be possible without the contributions from the MCFD Research Sponsors who proposed the research topics and the MCFD Research Course Coordinators who provided support to the MCFD Research Sponsors, MSW Students, and the course instructor.

The University of British Columbia, School of Social Work (Vancouver) provided support in administrating the Sponsored Research Agreement and offering the MSW Research and Evaluation in Child, Youth, and Family Services course. The University of British Columbia, Library provides access to the Open Journal System (OJS) software and server space for the e-journal.

The Centre for the Study of Services to Children and Families provided additional resources by way of committed staff that contributed to the develop of the e-journal. Michelle Bellivue was the initial lead format editor who assisted with developing the layout design and converting the research reports into journal format. Olive Huang continued as format editor by attended to all the formatting details to ensure the e-journal was well presented. Dr. Sarah Dow-Fleisner and Michelle O’Kane are the journal editors who helped oversee the editorial and production process.

I want to acknowledge the MSW student researchers for their hard work and diligence in learning and producing rigorous research that informs social policy and practices. Finally, immense gratitude to the individuals, teams, agencies, and community partners who participated in the research and shared insights and recommendations for how to better support the children, youth, families, and communities in British Columbia.
