

Contributors

Wilson Duff, former curator of anthropology at the Provincial Museum in Victoria, is now a member of the Department of Anthropology and Sociology at the University of British Columbia. He has published numerous articles on the culture of the Indians of the Pacific Northwest and is the author of The Indian History of B.C. Vol. I: The Impact of the White Man.

George Woodcock is a distinguished biographer, travel writer and poet, and editor of Canadian Literature. His most recent books include The Crystal Spirit: A Study of George Orwell, Kerala: A Portrait of the Malabar Coast, and (with Ivan Avakumovic) The Doukhobors, reviewed in this issue.